1. Blood Pressure

Blood pressure is the measurement of the pressure or force of blood inside your arteries. Each time your heart beats, it pumps blood into arteries that carry blood throughout your body. This happens 60 to 100 times a minute, 24 hours a day.

Symptoms and causes:

Usually, high blood pressure causes no signs or symptoms. That's why healthcare providers call it a "silent killer." You could have high blood pressure for years and not know it. In fact, the World Health Organization estimates that 46% of adults with high blood pressure don't know they have it.

When your blood pressure is 180/120 mmHg or higher, you may experience symptoms like headaches, heart palpitations or nosebleeds

Changing your lifestyle can help control and manage high blood pressure. Your health care provider may recommend that you make lifestyle changes including:

- Eating a heart-healthy diet with less salt
- Getting regular physical activity
- Maintaining a healthy weight or losing weight
- Limiting alcohol
- Not smoking
- Getting 7 to 9 hours of sleep daily.

2.Communicable Diseases

3.Non-Communicable Diseases

Non-Communicable diseases are disease that are not spread through infection or through other people, but are typically caused by unhealthy behaviours.

4.Heat stress

Heat stress occurs when the body cannot get rid of excess heat. When this happens, the body's core temperature rises and the heart rate increases. As the body continues to store heat, the person begins to lose concentration and has difficulty focusing on a task, may become irritable or sick, and often loses the desire to drink.

5.Ergonomics

Ergonomics can roughly be defined as the study of people in their working environment. More specifically, an ergonomist designs or modifies the work to fit the worker, not the other way around. The goal is to eliminate discomfort and risk of injury due to work .

Climate change is defined as: “a change of climate which is attributed directly or indirectly to human activity that alters the composition of the global atmosphere. The climate of Tamil Nadu is strikingly different from the general climate of the country. Due to its topographical features and geographical area the climate of Tamil Nadu is referred to as semiarid and tropical monsoon.

Health System risks expected due to Climate Change in Tamil Nadu are:

Adverse health effects of more severe drought and long-term drying conditions on rural and remote communities. Exposure to extremes of heat, dust, and smoke.
